

I oppose the rule making that would allow further concentration of media power into the hands of a few giant corporations.